Dear Community:

I hope 2015 is treating you well thus far. The first two months of the New Year have certainly been great for Harlem! We have a number of new businesses that have opened in recent months, and we have several more just around the corner. In our downtown, we have a new gift shop and an art gallery on the way. We also have several professional offices opening soon—an architect, a realtor, and a massage therapist. In addition to those new businesses, one of our existing restaurants is planning a major remodel.

We continue to see an uptick in residential building. Subdivisions are bustling with activity, and new phases are in the planning stages!

I did want to let you know that we have received a number of calls from concerned citizens about an insurance mailer. A company is offering coverage on water line breaks that occur between the meter and your house. You are responsible for the line between the meter and your house. However, please note that this company is not affiliated with the City in any way, and this coverage is not required by the City. If you have questions on this or anything else, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Jason Rizner
City Manager
